The 25 year warranty and 50 year durability life applies to all Rifeng piping systems and system components distributed by SPK Industries Ltd if installed according to the installation instructions and technical documentation.

SPK Industries or Rifeng is unable to warrant in any way the following aspects of any Rifeng installation.

- Workmanship and or installation practices.
- The environment in which the tube is installed.
- The system of which the tube is a part.
- Against corrosive environments or liquids which may be transported by or stored within the tube.
- Or the effect that any of the above aspects may have on the system.

Care should be taken to ascertain if a potentially corrosive environment is present, either externally or from the fluid transported in the system and if so technical assistance should be sought from SPK Industries Ltd before installation.

The universal O Ring on Rifeng DZR fittings is designed for use with Plumbing and Gas installations. It is suitable for both Natural Gas and LPG and for cold and hot water systems where a tempering valve is fitted and system will not run at over a maximum temperature of 75°C constantly.
